KANSAS CITY, MO (February, 2009) – Arrow Truck Sales, Inc., North America's leading retailer of heavy and medium-duty trucks, announced it has extended its standard 30-Day Warranty to 90-Days, making it the longest standard warranty in the industry included in the purchase of a pre-owned truck. This comprehensive, 90-Day Warranty not only covers the engine, transmission and rear end, but also includes the radiator, ECM and turbocharger. This new, expanded coverage is available on selected Volvo trucks.

"We know that many of our customers are owner-operators or small business owners who need all the support they can get from their pre-owned truck source," said Carl Heikel, President & CEO of Arrow Truck Sales. "By extending our standard warranty to 90 Days, we provide our customers with extended protection by securing the reliable performance of their truck. We are confident to stand behind our trucks because we put them through an extensive inspection and reconditioning process that exceeds competitors' practices."
